DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-12 are pending.

2. Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 7-9, drawn to R2 is piperidine compounds, classified in class 546, subclass various, depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed species is also required. Further restriction based on the species election may be required. Claims 1-6, 12 reading on the elected compound can be prosecuted together with the election.
- II. Claim 10, drawn to R2 is carbonline, classified in class 548, subclass various depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed species is also required. Further restriction based on the species election may be required. Claims 1-6, 12 reading on the elected compound can be prosecuted together with the election.
- III. Claim 11, drawn to R2 is piperazine, classified in class 544, subclass various depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed species is also required. Further restriction based on the species election may be required. Claims 1-6, 12 reading on the elected compound can be prosecuted together with the election.
- IV. Claims 1-6, 12, drawn to R2 is the remaining subject matter, classified in class various, subclass various depending on species election. If this group is elected, a further election of a single disclosed species is also required. Further restriction based on the species election will be made among the remaining I-VII substructure

The inventions are independent or distinct, each from the other because:

Compounds of groups I-IV differ in elements, bonding arrangements and chemical structure to such an extent as not to be recognized by one having ordinary skill to belong to the single class of products (see different class). The cores of the claims belong to independent and distinct classes and the search of such diversity of classes are extremely burdensome.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
